"CAPTAIN BLOOD," a Vitagraph picture with J. Warren Kerrigan in the title role, is an adaptation of this thrilling novel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, who had taken up his residence in Bridgewater after years spent in the wars on the continent, although he is in his early thirties, is summoned by Jeremiah Pitt to treat Lord Gildoy who has been wounded in the battle between the Duke of Monmouth's followers and the loyalists at Oglethorpe's Farm. Blood finds the Lordship in the home of a yeoman, Baynes. He treats the wound and the King's soldiers under brutal Captain Hobart take possession of the house and threaten immediate hanging for the inmates whom he designates as rebels. Blood pleads that in Christian countries Christian men do not make war upon the wounded nor those who give them succor. Hobart declares that there are gallows on the road and those present will execute them. Hobart demands the name of the impudent medics and when Peter Blood reveals himself, the British captain recognizes him as one whom he had known in Tangiers. Blood saves the lives of Pitt and Baynes for the time by his clever wit and Lord Gildoy is carried out on a day-bed to prison. Blood, Pitt and Baynes are also bound and placed under arrest as rebels.

Mitchell, Ontario.—"I have taken my medicine for a number of years. I do not take it steady all the time, but I am never without it. I always keep it in the house. I took it first for pains in the abdomen and bearing-down pains, headaches and pains across the back. I have my home to look after and many a day I could not get up at all. I saw the advertisement in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and Mrs. John Miller told me about it, too. Every time I take it, it makes me feel better and I always recommend it to my friends. I am willing to answer letters from women asking about this medicine and you may use this letter as a testimonial."—Mrs. F. J. WASSMANN, Mitchell, Ontario.

The merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is told by women to each other. Many women know by experience what this medicine will do and they are anxious for others to know.

Such testimony should cause any woman suffering from the troubles so common to her sex to give this well-known medicine a fair trial.

Do you know that in a recent canvass among women users of the Vegetable Compound over 220,000 replies were received. To the question, "Have you received benefit by taking this medicine?" 98 per cent. replied "Yes."

This means that 98 out of every 100 women are in better health because they have given this medicine a fair trial.

other that his trial took place on the 19th of September. Until the 18th, the sentences passed by the court of the Lords Commissioners had been carried out literally and expeditiously. But on the morning of the 19th there arrived at Taunton a courier from Lord Sunderland, the Secretary of State, with a letter for Lord Jeffreys wherein he was informed that His Majesty had been graciously pleased to command that eleven hundred rebels should be furnished for transportation to some of His Majesty's southern plantations, Jamaica, Barbados, or any of the Leeward Islands.

This command was not dictated by mercy. Slaves were urgently required in the plantations. A thousand prisoners were to be distributed among some eight couriers. These prisoners were to be kept there for the space of ten years before being restored to liberty; the parties to whom they were assigned entering into security to see that transportation was immediately effected. Peter Blood, and with him Jeremy Pitt and Andrew Baynes, were conveyed to Bristol and there shipped with some fifty others aboard the Jamaica Merchant. Eleven died, and amongst these was the yeoman from Oglethorpe's Farm.

CHAPTER IV.

The Slave Market

Towards the middle of December the Jamaica Merchant dropped anchor in Carlisle Bay, and put ashore the forty-two surviving rebels-convicts. They beheld a town of sufficiently imposing proportions.

A fort guarded the entrance of the wide harbour, with guns thrusting their muzzles between the crenels, and the wide facade of Government House revealed itself dominantly placed on a gentle hill above the town. On a wide cobbled space on the sea front they found a guard of red-coated militia drawn up to receive them.

To inspect them came Governor Steed. After him, in the uniform of a colonel of the Barbados Militia, rolled a tall, corpulent man who towered head and shoulders above the Governor, with malevolence plainly written on his enormous yellowish countenance. At his side, and contrasting oddly with his grossness, moving with an easy springing grace, came a slight young lady in a modish riding-gown. The broad brim of a grey hat with a scarlet sweep of ostrich plume shaded an oval face upon which the climate of the Tropic of Cancer had made no impression, so delicately fair was its complexion. Ringlets of red-brown hair hung to her shoulders.

Peter Blood caught himself staring in a sort of amazement at that piquant face, which seemed here so out of place, and finding his stare returned, he shifted uncomfortably. He was in no case for inspection by such dainty eyes as these. Nevertheless, they continued to inspect him with round-eyed, almost childlike wonder and pity. Their owner touched the scented sleeve of her companion. The colonel plainly gave her no more than the half of his attention. His little beady eyes were fixed upon fair-haired, sturdy young Pitt, who was standing beside Blood. The Governor had also come to a halt.

"My dear Colonel-Bishop, it is for you to take first choice and at your own price. After that we'll send the rest to auction."

Colonel Bishop nodded his acknowledgement and advanced alone towards the rebels-convict. Before the young Somersetshire shipmaster he came to a halt, and stood an instant pondering him.

"Fifteen pounds for this one." The master of the convict ship made a face of dismay. "Fifteen pounds? It isn't half what I meant to ask for him."

"It is double what I had meant to give," grunted the Colonel. They bargained and Pitt was taken at twenty pounds.

Peter Blood lost himself in unprofitable speculations. He was in no mood for conversation, nor was Pitt, who stood dumbly at his side. To Pitt, this separation was the poignant climax of all his sufferings. Blood noticed that the girl was speaking to Bishop, and pointing up the line with a silver-billed riding-whip she carried. Then, slowly, they came until the Colonel was abreast of Blood. He would have passed on, but that the lady tapped his arm with her whip.

"But this is the man I meant," she said.

"This one? Bah! A bag of bones. What should I do with him?"

He was turning away when Captain Gardner interposed:

"He may be lean, but he's tough; tough and healthy. When half of them was sick and the other half sickening, this rogue kept his legs and doctored his fellows. Say fifteen pounds for him, Colonel. That's cheap enough."

The little village of Hedge End, in Hampshire, will shortly own in a completed state one of the most unique war memorials in England. It is in memory of the men of the county, and is being built in Swiss chalet style, entirely by an ex-service man. He has devoted the whole of his leisure to the task for many months, and the memorial contains many symbolic figures and inscriptions, as well as medallions containing the names of war celebrities. In it is a model of the Europa, and on the ceiling are about eight hundred wooden diamonds bearing regimental crests, colors, ribbons, buttons, divisional and corps signs, and the crests of all the ships in the British navy.

Chicago's discovery of its remote and almost medieval origin reminds us that the whole New World is gradually getting old. We are now the leading world power, and it is time for every part of the country to provide itself with a respectable ancestry. The comparatively modern Columbus is no longer regarded as a fitting starting-point for American history. We like to begin our history with Leif Erickson, and if there were any way of stretching Leif's prebogatical wanderings as far as the great lakes the discovery would be welcome.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

SYNOPSIS

Peter Blood, a young Irish physician, has taken up residence in Bridgewater, after years spent in the wars on the continent. Chance had sent him as a youth graduating from Trinity College, Dublin, to take service with the Dutch, who were then at war with France. He had a predilection for the sea and served under the famous de Ruyter. The forces of the Duke of Monmouth had come to battle at Oglethorpe's Farm. Blood knew of the impending engagement between the rebels and the royalists but he had remained indifferent, although he had seen the gathering of the foolish peasantry. He went early to bed and slept through the rumble of cannon. At dawn he was awakened by Jeremiah Pitt, a young shipmaster, who summoned him to go to the aid of Lord Gildoy, a follower of Monmouth, who had been wounded and had taken shelter in the home of a yeoman, Baynes. Blood dresses and, providing himself with a kit of surgeon's instruments, mounts behind Pitt and rides to the house of Baynes. Peter Blood had set out upon his Odyssey.

CHAPTER II.

Kirke's Dragoons

Oglethorpe's farm stood a mile or so to the south of Bridgewater on the right bank of the river. On the bridge, as they had been riding out of Bridgewater, they had met vanguard of fugitives from the field of battle; hoarse voices cried a warning that merciless pursuit was not far behind. But as Pitt's direction was a southward one, bringing them ever nearer to Feversham's headquarters, they were presently clear of that human flotsam and jetsam of the battle.

In the spacious, stone-flagged hall, the doctor found Lord Gildoy stretched on a cane day-bed in care of Mrs. Baynes and her comely daughter.

Mr. Blood knelt to his task. He was still intent upon it a half-hour later when the dragoons invaded the homestead. His lordship showed considerable alarm, and the battle-stained Jeremy Pitt sped to cover in a clothes-press. Baynes was uneasy, and his wife and daughter trembled.

"Why, what's to fear?" Mr. Blood reassured them. "It's a Christian country, this, and Christian men do not make war upon the wounded, nor upon those who harbour them."

And then they came rattling and clanking into the stone-flagged hall—a round dozen jack-booted, lobster-coated troopers of the Tangiers Regiment, led by a sturdy, black-browed fellow with a dent of gold lace about the breast of his coat. The Captain stamped forward to the day-bed, and scowled down upon the grey-faced sufferer.

"A damned rebel, and that's enough for me. Out with him my lads."

Mr. Blood got between the day-bed and the troopers.

"In the name of humanity, sir!" said he, on a note of anger. "This is England, not Tangiers. The gentleman is in sore case. He may not be moved without peril to his life."

Captain Hobart was amused.

"Do you think it's to benefit his health we're taking him? There's pallows being planted along the road from Weston to Bridgewater, and he'll

On Soviet Sailship

Is Practical Navigator and Will Eventually Command Merchantman

A weather-beaten ship, a Bolshevik sailing vessel, was in harbor at London, and a Daily News reporter, investigating certain rumors of propaganda, found nothing abnormal, but something rather interesting. The ship carried 61 people, 35 of them cadets, who were learning navigation on the instructions of the Soviet Government. Classes are held in the chart room every day. One of the most interesting persons is a pretty Russian girl of about 23. She is fourth officer and wears workaday clothes to suit her nautical position. She is a practical navigator and is to travel all round the world in this small sailing vessel. Eventually she will command a Soviet merchantman.

Advocates Mixed Farming

Grew World's Champion Wheat

J. C. Mitchell, of Dabida, Sask., declared world's champion wheat grower for the third consecutive time at the recent Chicago Livestock Show, who is now on his way to the Old Country on a demonstration tour. Interviewed at the Canadian Pacific head office enroute, he said that prize wheat is growing bigger and better each year. Exhibits which rank 15th and 20th now would have won first prize twelve years ago. The secret of bigger grain, he said, is in selection of seed. Only by picking out the biggest and best is the grower able to produce something better than other growers. This selection takes time but is eminently worth while. The selected wheat is not to be put through a machine, Mr. Mitchell said, but is tailed by hand or tramped out by horses. Although champion wheat grower, Mr. Mitchell, is an advocate of mixed farming.

Canker Of Local Apathy

People Must Take An Interest In Public Affairs to Secure Good Government

Any system of government, or of balloting, or of citizenship must fall unless there is local patriotism and healthy public opinion behind it. The system may be wholly good, but the apathy of the citizens may destroy the best effect which should be there. Local apathy is a canker to good government and it starts upon its wrecking career before the elections. If the people do not express themselves clearly in favor of better candidates and progressive government, they cannot expect good candidates in perfect sets, or a large choice of acceptable names on the ballot.—Brandon Sun.

Mayor Does Not Know Who Extended the Welcome

The Prince of Wales, on his recent visit to New England, received an official key to the city of Boston and an invitation to call on Mayor James M. Curley, either at the city hall or at the mayor's home.

But, although the Prince has formally thanked the mayor for the attention and took the key back to England with him, Mayor Curley declares that he never sent the Prince a key and that during his brief stay on the Massachusetts north shore, no welcome to the city was extended him.

"Your destination there will be the goal."

"Ah, bah! You're surely joking!" "There's a gallows for you if you prefer it. It's merely a question of now or later."

Rude hands seized Mr. Blood. Pinning him to the ground, they tied his wrists behind his back, then roughly pulled him to his feet again. The soldiers tramped out by the door leading to the interior. Mr. Blood was thrust by his guards into the courtyard, where Pitt and Baynes already waited. There were sounds of rending timbers, the shouts and laughter

Another Instinct Of Birds

Drop Clams From Great Height To Break Shells

It is a well-known habit of gulls and some other birds that feed in part on shellfish to carry clams to a considerable height and then drop them on some hard surface to break the shell. A man on the Board Walk at Atlantic City was struck on the head with such force by a clam that a gull had dropped that he was knocked down and for a little while was unconscious. It is an interesting question whether instinct or intelligence impelled the gull to drop the clam just at that moment.

Cornwall, Ontario.—"I am now giving your medicine a fair trial and it surely is doing me good and I am going to keep on taking it. I used to feel so tired in the morning that I didn't want to get up, but that feeling is leaving me now. I also sleep better and feel more like working. For seven or eight years I have had headaches, tired feelings, pain in my back and across my body. I read letters in the newspapers saying what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done others. My husband says I quit too soon, but I am not going to stop taking the Vegetable Compound and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine until I am better and haven't an ache or a pain. Isn't that the right way? I have a great faith in your medicines. They must be good when those who take them speak so highly of them. I am recommending them to my friends and I will gladly answer letters from women asking about them."—Mrs. BURT H. HART, Box 1081, Cornwall, Ontario.

Mrs. Hart wants to help other women and is willing to answer letters from sick women asking about the Vegetable Compound.

A UNIFORM RATE STRUCTURE FOR ALL OF CANADA

Ottawa.—In the forthcoming session of Parliament consideration of the fundamentals of a new and uniform rate structure will be one of the outstanding subjects. The intention to take it up is indicated in a message which the minister of railways has sent to the Brantford Board of Trade. That body, originally instrumental in launching the case that ended in the railway commission's judgment, has complained anew of the discriminations resulting from the interpretation placed upon the agreement. Mr. Graham, while conceding possible inconvenience from the suspension of the commission's order, hopes that "a way will be found for a re-organization of the rate structure, applicable and just to all parts of the country."

The Supreme Court has just fixed February 3 for argument on the Crow's Nest appeal. Whatever the judgment, whether it upholds or disallows the finding of the commission, the evident purpose here is to have Parliament discuss the whole matter in the hope of laying a basis for a uniform structure. Details of rate making would not be dealt with by Parliament.

Japanese and U.S. Armies to Exchange Language Officers

Washington.—The Japanese and United States War Departments have entered into an arrangement for the exchange of language officers, who will be attached to regiments of the two armies for a period of six months.

Want Liquor Profits

Would Have Municipalities Share in Revenue From Sale of Liquor

Moose Jaw, Sask.—The City Council, with only two dissenting votes, passed a resolution asking the legislative assembly to include in the Liquor Act, now before Legislature, a clause which would give municipalities a substantial portion of profits accruing from the sale of spirits on a per capita basis.

Saskatoon is another urban municipality in Saskatchewan which has drafted a memorial to the Government to the same effect.

The inquiry is expected to be a sweeping one and to reveal fully the strength or weakness of the navy.

League Will Succeed Without United States

Attitude of America No Great Draw-back Says Viscount Cecil

New York.—Viscount Cecil, of Chelwood, amplified certain of his statements made at the Woodrow Wilson Foundation dinner, at which he was awarded the $25,000 peace prize.

Referring to the effect on the League of Nations, of the attitude toward it by the United States, Viscount Cecil asserts that no one in Europe now doubts that the League will succeed, even without the adherence of the United States.

"The League will get on without America," he said. "Not as well, of course, but it will get on."

"One indication that Europe's regard for the League is increasing," he pointed out, "is the fact that every year more important statesmen sit in its deliberations. This year there were six premiers and eighteen foreign ministers."

Choice Rests With Britain

European Situation Must Be Considered Says Sir Esme Howard

Washington.—During the twentieth century Great Britain must choose between an association of nations or the notorious doctrine of the balance of power, with its spectre of inevitable wars, Sir Esme Howard, British Ambassador, declared in an address before the American Political Science Association.

The United States, he said, on account of its geographical position, might hold aloof from European entanglements. At the present time he could see no one power threatening to dominate Europe. There is a breathing space in which to consider the whole situation, he asserted.

Intense Cold Grips Caucasus

Bitter Weather Has Caused Considerable Loss of Life

Baku, Azerbaijan.—Heavy snowstorms and bitter cold prevail throughout the Caucasus, entailing considerable loss of life and causing much inconvenience. Baku is buried in snow and all work in the oil fields has ceased. Eight persons were found frozen to death. Railroad communication with the whole Trans-Caucasian region is seriously impeded.

Alexandropol, where Americans are caring for thousands of orphans, is experiencing the coldest weather in its history. Gales are whipping the Black Sea, endangering shipping.

Desire Home Rule

To Safeguard the Public

Drastic Motor Laws Are Proposed in Britain

London.—A bill that is coming before Parliament in February dealing with motor traffic contains several interesting clauses, one of which has to do with the safeguarding of the public against drivers possessed of grave physical disabilities.

While a medical examination of a driver is not proposed in the bill, it is intended that each applicant for a driver's license must make a statutory declaration that he or she is in normal possession of all his or her faculties. This is designed to rule out deaf persons or persons of defective sight, also limbless persons, or people liable to sudden seizures which might incapacitate them for the time being.

In reply to queries from shareholders, the trustees declared that the limited assets of the company would be completely absorbed to meet existing liabilities, and that the shareholders could not hope to get anything out of the debris.

In other words, the club approved of the principle, and believes that International Rotary should work with that end in view. The question came up when J. W. Davidson, the local club's representative on the International committee, asked for an expression of opinion.

Expedition To Arctic

Scientists and Members of R.C.M.P. Will Accompany Party Next July

Ottawa.—The Canadian Government steamer Franklin will leave for the north next July, probably under command of Captain Bernier, the veteran navigator of Northern Canadian waters.

The Franklin, though smaller than the Arctic, is much faster and is built for bucking heavy ice. Next summer's expedition will include the usual number of scientists and, probably, members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who will relieve the men already stationed at posts in the Baffin Bay area. It is not yet known who will lead the party, but whoever is appointed will likely have to undertake the establishment of a new post somewhere in the Baffin district.

Strange Malady Is Raging In Persia

Doctors Unable to Diagnose New and Mysterious Disease

London.—More than 200 persons are dead and many more are dying of a new and mysterious disease which has broken out on the border between Persia and Afghanistan in the Karez district, according to a Central News despatch from Allahabad.

The population of the stricken district is terror-stricken and local doctors are unable to diagnose the malady. The victims bleed profusely from the nose, mouth and eyes, and turn yellow after a few hours.

Export Trade In Ice

Value of This Commodity Shipped to U.S. Was $88,839

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada is reaping a bumper crop of ice this year. The crop reports have indicated very favorable weather conditions, and the surplus production is finding a market in the United States. The latest figures show that Canada shipped ice to the value of $88,839 to the United States during the first nine months of 1924. On the other hand, only $21,515 was imported under this heading. Canada imported $12,761 tons during the nine-month period.

Grain In Buffalo Harbor

38,000,000 Bushels Valued at $40,000,000 in Vessels

Buffalo, N.Y.—The largest grain fleet in Buffalo's history is now anchored inside the harbor breakwater.

There are 119 grain boats with winter cargoes in Buffalo harbor. Their grain treasure approximates 38,000,000 bushels, and is valued at $40,000,000. Wheat makes up the bulk of the cargoes, there being 26,662,866 bushels of this staple. Most of the wheat is United States grown. It will be reshipped from here in the spring.

Gift for Canadian Students in France

Paris.—The minister of public instruction has authorized the rector of the French Academy to accept a donation from Hon. J. Marcellin Wilson, of Montreal, member of the Canadian Senate, on behalf of a group of Canadian friends of France, amounting to 2,600,000 francs, to be devoted to the foundation of a hotel for Canadian students in France.

Slaughter of Game

Fredericton, N.B.—Fifteen hundred moose and 3,200 deer were killed by hunters in New Brunswick during the game season this year, according to a compilation completed by Chief Game Warden L. A. Gagnon from returns so far available.

ONLY ELIGIBLE SETTLERS WILL BE ADMITTED

Chicago.—The United States no longer courts the role of melting pot which Canada has assumed, but Canada will melt only the raw materials she requires, said R. H. Coats, Dominion statistician, in an address before the American Statistical Association.

Canada encourages immigration and carries on active propaganda to that end," he said. "The United States does not. A Canadian director of immigration is maintained in London, with some 13 sub-officers throughout the British Isles, and others are elsewhere in Europe, with 18 agencies in the eastern, central and western states. These officers go after the eligible settlers by lectures, motion pictures, advertisements, etc., and they also act as guides to intending immigrants and as a first check on undesirables."

Sends New Year's Message

Presbyterian Moderator Says 1925 Beckons With Expectant Hand

Toronto.—Rev. Principal Mackinnon, of Halifax Presbyterian College, moderator of the General Assembly, in a New Year's message addressed to Presbyterians of the Dominion, points out that "for the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches, 1925 beckons with expectant hand."

"Confusion and controversy may, for the moment," he says, "darken and distress the spirit, but through the parting clouds we herald a new era, where old animosities are buried, where the footfall of controversy is hushed, and where, with fresh vigor, a United Church goes forth on her glorious mission."

Machine Guns Stolen From French Railway

Case For Brazilian Ministry of War Has Disappeared

Hayre.—A case of machine guns addressed to the Brazilian Ministry of War has disappeared some place between Paris and Hayre, and the shipping officials have formally requested the police to investigate. The case was one of 123 cases, containing machine guns and fittings destined for the Brazilian Government. The cases were sent from Paris in sealed and padlocked freight cars, and were loaded on the steamer which sailed December 19 for Rio Janeiro. The case was listed as being in the consignment, but was found to be missing.

Value of Kota Wheat

Shows Better Milling Qualities Than Was At First Expected

Winnipeg.—"Kota wheat has shown better milling qualities than it was at first expected to," stated A. W. Alcock, cereal chemist for the Western Canada Flour Mills, in the course of an address to the Western Canada Society of Agronomy, in session here.

Mr. Alcock forecast a gradual diminution of the spread in price between Marquis and Kota, although he thought the latter would never quite equal its very successful predecessor.

The delegates were the guests of the Department of Agriculture at a banquet.

Cobb Denies Report

Says Rumor of His Demise is Entirely Unfounded

New York.—Irving S. Cobb, like Mark Twain, has had the pleasure of denying a story of his death.

Mark said the story about his death was greatly exaggerated. The latter day humorist, in a telegram to the New York World from Paducah, Ky., says: "I hate to disappoint any one, but the Chicago report that I am dead, is, so far as I can learn, entirely unfounded."

Many Engage in Trapping

Port Arthur, Ont.—The white man is rapidly superseding the Indian in fur trapping in this district, according to A. E. Fraser, district game warden, who states that upwards of 300 white men were employed in the business of fur trapping in the district this season as compared with about 100 Indians.

On account of the exceedingly active opposition that we are receiving from the Board companies and on account of so many false and misleading statements made about our Company I want to let you know the result of our very heavy assessment as we have found it up to the present date.

In discussing the assessment of 33 1-3% of the note I want our members to realize that the cost of insurance with us for the past three years has only been $1.51 2-3 per hundred dollars on any ordinary farm risk. Those of your neighbors who insured three years ago in a Board company paid $2.00 per hundred for the same protection, as the reduction in their rate to $1.50 did not come into effect till the spring of 1922.

In the last issue of the Board Companies pamphlet "Insurance" they stated that we had advised our policy holders that "Our Assessment will in future be 33 1-3% per annum," an absolutely untrue and I believe an intentionally untrue statement, as we have every reason to believe we will be able to carry on with a much lower assessment in future.

In making our assessment our Directors did so anticipating the possibility of a smaller percentage of collections and a continuation or an increase in our losses during the threshing season. On both of these counts our fears have been groundless. Not only have our collections exceeded our expectations but for the past two months our losses have been about half what they were for the same period earlier in the year and so far from being bankrupt we find ourselves more than $100,000.00 better off this year on December 1st than on the same date in 1923 and this in spite of the fact that we have already paid more than $120,000.00 in losses over our total for 1923, and if our present loss ratio continues no heavy assessment will be needed. With a total assessment levy of less than $750,000.00 we have received within seventy days of sending out our notices over $500,000.00 in cash. Those who are disposed to cavil at the security which we hold in farmers' notes can ponder over this.

Remember that no Board Company gives as broad a covering as we do. All the advantages they are now offering through their agents as special attractions and only to be obtained from them are in our policy.

We insure up to 75% of the actual cash value and pay losses on the same basis—partial losses on buildings are paid for in full—draught animals are paid for anywhere while doing farm work, all household contents are covered under one item except musical instruments, which are insured separately, stacks of grain are insured within seventy-five feet of buildings, automobiles and tractors are insured while stored without extra charge. All these are part of our regular policy and in addition we allow free permits for gasoline lamps and stoves for which the Board makes a special charge. We also give free prairie fire protection in Manitoba and half the Board charge in the other provinces.

Remember also that no protection is given you by the Stock Companies until you have paid the full premium in advance, while we give immediate protection for an average period of seven months before asking for payment and then in the Fall and only one-third each year.

No risk is incurred by any member of a Mutual Company beyond the amount of the premium note, and for those who prefer to pay in advance our cash rate is only $1.25 with the same reduction as given by Board Companies for buildings having lightning rods and for dwellings having all chimneys from the foundation. Those who insure on the cash basis are of course free from any further payments during the life of the Policy.

Schools and churches can and should be insured in Mutual Companies for there is no legal or moral reason why they should not be notwithstanding the oft quoted opinion of some attorney from Texas whose view has for some years been a part of the Board propaganda and which has no more bearing on Canadian insurance than the views of an attorney in Reno, Nevada, would have on our Divorce Law.

See our agent or write to Head Office for further information. Yours sincerely,

WHERE'S THE S. R. D.

Mr. J. Welsh, principal of the Public Schools, Red Deer, was a visitor to J. D. Thomas last week. Mr. Welsh and "J. D." were members of the same regiment in the Imperials and saw service during the war on Gallipoli, Egypt, and Western Fronts. During the short visit they doubtless lived those four years over again although J. D. says they hadn't the "Iron Rations" neither had the S. R. D. arrived.

It is interesting to note that our popular Postmaster, Mr. H. Morgan was at one time a member of the same "Old Brigade" although during the war he served with the Canadians. Perhaps he could tell us where the S. R. D. went.

AROUND THE TOWN

Happy and Prosperous New Year to all.

Readers of the continued story in the Pioneer will find two instalments in this issue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Franklin and daughter Valva were visitors in Calgary on Wednesday.

Mr. Emmanuel Brado and brother John left last Thursday to visit their brother William at Myrtle, Ont., and other points. They expect to be away for two or three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Abner Hunsperger left on Saturday last for a visit to B. C. Before returning they hope to visit friends and relatives at Chilliwack, Salmon Arm, Penticton, Cloverdale, Oyama and Vancouver.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Reiber Thursday, January 15th, at 3 o'clock. Subject for this meeting, given by Mrs. Berscht, will be "Scientific Temperance". All ladies are invited to attend.

The death of the young lad, Tommy Simpson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Simpson of Mayton, which occurred at the Didsbury General Hospital on Wednesday last at the age of 16 years, was keenly felt in the district in which he had lived for thirteen years. He was a bright courteous and gentlemanly little fellow and a universal favorite with all who knew him especially with his schoolfellow and teachers. The family have the sincere sympathy of their district in their big loss. Pneumonia and pleurisy was the cause of death.

Didsbury curlers journeyed to Olds on Monday night and succeeded in capturing the Mitchell Cup. Freeman and Miller were the skips.

Unless ten members of Knox Union Church apply to Rev. Mr.

McNutt for a vote on church union no new vote will be taken here. It will be remembered that union was voted on here some years ago and the vote was almost unanimous for union since which time Knox has been called a union church.

Our readers should look up the advertisement of the C. P. R. on another page which announces a change in train time. There is quite a difference in the time that some of these trains arrive.

A number of Calgary curlers are coming up this Saturday for a few friendly games.

Last Year's Resolutions

... Shot ...

We wish to apologize to our customers for the past year because of unforeseen complications, tribulations, difficulties, etc. we were unable to abide by our good resolutions we so valiantly started out to put into action at the beginning of last year.

In spite of our best efforts to uphold said resolutions the elements were largely responsible for our failure to live up to our expectations—our roof leaked, watering our vinegar, coal oil and dried fruits as well as dampening our courage. The wind blew sand into our sugar and salt, adding greatly to its weight. The hail storms did much damage to many of our customers crops, making it impossible for them to buy many of our sausages, and so another good resolution was broken—that we would not buy dogs from our customers who did not eat sausages.

We were forced to make many substitutions: axle grease was sold for butter, prunes for strawberries, bananas for cucumbers, coal oil for vinegar, mustard for peanut butter, sawdust for breakfast food.

We therefore resolve to make no resolutions for 1925 that are impossible to adhere to, but to do our best to overcome our shortcomings of the past year.
